

2019 Leadership Workshop
January 24-26, 2019
Phoenix, AZ

HIRING, EVALUATING, AND RETAINING KINESIOLOGY FACULTY

CALL FOR PRESENTATION PROPOSALS

DEADLINE FOR SUBMITTING PROPOSALS IS NOVEMBER 1, 2018

The American Kinesiology Association will hold its 12th annual leadership workshop on January 24 -26, 2019 in Phoenix, AZ. The workshop brings together over 100 kinesiology leaders, administrators, and faculty who are committed to advancing our discipline as a unified field of study. The workshop provides a unique opportunity to network with others engaged in university administration and with those who are interested in increasing their leadership knowledge and skills for effective administration of kinesiology departments.

You and others from your department are invited to contribute to the 2019 AKA Leadership Workshop by submitting proposals for poster presentations, roundtable discussions, and/or theme-focused workshop sessions.

Poster Presentations and Roundtable Discussions

The 2019 AKA Leadership Workshop will include sessions for chairs or departmental representatives to share innovative approaches and successful strategies for hiring, evaluating, and retaining kinesiology faculty. At this workshop, presentations may be done as poster presentations and roundtable discussions. Posters will be available for viewing on Saturday morning; authors will be at their posters during the scheduled poster session. Roundtable discussions will be interactive sessions for 12 minutes that are led by the presenter around a particular theme. Presenters should prepare brief handouts to guide their table discussions. Several “rounds” of discussions with attendees rotating from table to table will occur.

Specific presentations should focus on topics related to the conference themes. See the list of suggested topics below.

Hiring faculty: Advertising, interviewing, recruiting, negotiating	Mentoring tenure-track faculty and managing a third-year review
Successful strategies for conducting annual faculty evaluations	Qualitative and quantitative approaches to determining faculty merit pay
Managing tenured faculty and post-tenure review	Navigating requests for counter offers from tenured faculty
Use of quantitative measures in faculty reviews for merit and tenure and promotion.	Other topics related to hiring, evaluating, and retaining faculty

CALL FOR PRESENTATION PROPOSALS
DEADLINE FOR SUBMITTING PROPOSALS IS NOVEMBER 1, 2018

Theme-focused Workshop Sessions

AKA is also inviting proposals for more extensive sessions focused on specific themes. These 75-minute sessions combine presentations to introduce and briefly discuss the theme (30-45 minutes) with participation for the attendees through case studies, group discussions on relevant questions, and other interactive approaches (30-45 minutes). An example would be two 15-minute presentations followed by a 45-minute case study. One or more individuals shall serve as facilitators for the sessions. Proposed sessions must focus on one of the following six topics related to the conference themes:

Interacting with the Dean and Provost Offices on Recruiting and Retaining Faculty	Managing Salary and Merit Processes
Managing Promotion and Tenure Processes	Successful Recruitment and Retention
Incentivizing faculty behavior in teaching, research and/or service	Supporting and evaluating non-tenure track faculty (professional practice, clinical, research faculty)

To apply, please complete the attached information and submit to akaproposals@americankinesiology.org.
Please email any questions to AKA Workshop Program Chair, Dr. Jason Carter jcarter@mtu.edu.

 ALL PRESENTERS MUST REGISTER FOR THE WORKSHOP ***

Information regarding workshop registration and hotel reservations are available on the AKA website:

<http://americankinesiology.org/SubPages/Pages/AKA%20Workshops>